Data Retention Policy

Mountview requests, generates, processes and stores a range of personal data during the conduct of its business. The basis for this is set out in Mountview's Privacy Notice. The Data Retention Policy describes the kinds of data which Mountview stores, and the length of time for which they will be retained.

Where stored data items have reached the end of their retention period and need to be destroyed, anonymised statistical data derived from those items may continue to be retained as a historical record.
